

Australian Market Update

Japan leads Asia lower on BoJ disappointment

Asian stocks plummeted today, with Japan's Nikkei leading losses as the Bank of Japan Governor Kuroda disappointed investors hoping for more stimulus measures to be implemented faster. He signalled to law makers today that the BoJ will expand asset purchases. China's market also slumped today amid concerns that new wealth management rules will hurt bank earnings; financial companies traded 5.1% down today. On the local market, meanwhile, industrials advanced 0.2% as BlueScope Steel (ASX: BSL) rallied 3.0% after it said Japan's Nippon Steel & Sumitomo Metal Corporation has made the US$540 million payment needed to formalise their 50-50 joint venture in South East Asia and North America. Nufarm (ASX: NUF) fell as much as 15% to an 18-month low after the company said a dry, hot summer put a dent in earnings. Cyprus' banks will reopen their doors tonight for the first time in almost two weeks, but with limits on cash withdrawals.
